

Lady Gail G. Booker
Fifth Episcopal District Treasurer

Lady Gail Booker was born in Macon, GA, in a Christina home and accepted Jesus Christ as her Lord and Savior at an early age. She is the youngest of six children. At an early age, her parents taught her financial business skills and to think positive. Her family used their musical and vocal gifts once a month in nursing homes around the city and vicinity as a family outreach ministry.

Lady Gail worked as a civilian with Robins Air Force Base before employment with BellSouth Telecommunications. She retired from BellSouth Telecommunications as a Business Specialist with par excellent Human Relations skills that afforded her an opportunity to be part of a training video used by BellSouth employees across the region. She was also a member of BellSouth's "Elite Club."

Lady Gail holds a degree from Crandall College and received certifications in "Effective Public Speaking and Human Relations" from Dale Carnegie and in "The ABCs of Effective Child Care Leadership" from the Georgia Department of Early Care and Learning (Bright From the Start).

She is former owner/investor of G&S Transportation which operated in 48 states. She, with the assistance of her husband, Pastor Spencer Lamar Booker (who was the Lead Chaplin for the Police Department), operated an outstanding after-school program in East Point, GA, that transformed failing students into honor roll students. They also collaborated with the City of East Point, GA, to establish a summer program for youth, "The Summer Safety Initiative Program," which had four satellite locations.

Lady Gail is a former Women's Missionary Society Area Chair of the South Atlanta Area of the Sixth Episcopal District and the former Midwest Conference President of the Minister's Spouses and Widows and Widowers Organization (MSWAWO).

Lady Gail's husband, the Rev. Spencer Lamar Booker, is Pastor of the Historic St. Paul AME Church in St. Louis, MO, "The Oldest AME Church West of the Mississippi River." They are the parents of two talented sons: Maestro Daeryl "Scooter" Booker and Nicholas Lamar Booker.

Lady Gail's favorite hobby is reading and her favorite scripture is Philippians 4:13, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

Please join me in welcoming Lady Gail G. Booker, our New Fifth Episcopal District Treasurer.
